Kappa Omicron Nu Mission – The mission of empowered leaders requires effort at both the national and chapter levels to conduct educational programming toward that end.

Focus on Undergraduate Research – Chapters are encouraged to collaborate with administrators and faculty to promote and recognize undergraduate research. A long-term action plan should be developed to institute this emphasis in programming.

Focus on Ethics – Chapters are encouraged to collaborate with unit administrators and faculty and/or with other honor societies on campus to determine ways to promote ethics. The Association of College Honor Societies is sponsoring “A Matter of Ethics,” and its Web site offers programming ideas. See link on the homepage: www.achsnaatl.org.

Please know that the National Office and the Board of Directors are available for help and will respond to your needs.

Kappa Omicron Nu Leadership Institute and Undergraduate Research Conference

Ninth KON Leadership Institute & Undergraduate Research Conference

Hyatt Regency DFW

Dallas, TX

August 2 -5, 2007

Thursday, 4:00 p.m.

to

Sunday, 11:00 a.m.

ABOUT THE 2007 CONCLAVE

The Leadership Institute will include the biennial meeting of the Assembly of Delegates, the governing body of Kappa Omicron Nu, and an intensive leadership development program. The theme of the 2007 Institute, “Leading with Excellence,” will be implemented through interactive sessions on the application of Reflective Human Action to organizational and personal settings. Two sessions will feature student research presentations. During the Assembly of Delegates Meeting, voting delegates will elect Student Board Members, consider business of Kappa Omicron Nu, and participate in a forum to determine priorities for the “ends” (to achieve the mission) of Kappa Omicron Nu.

The Reflective Human Action Leadership Development Model will guide the leadership development sessions: strengthening self-awareness, developing relationships and teamwork, understanding alliances and political realities, and understanding the elements of a promising future. The Leadership Institute will conclude with development of a personal action plan for enhancing leadership. The Institute will provide twelve hours of leadership development by professional leaders in the Human Sciences.

Academic programs are invited to register undergraduate and graduate students in addition to the Kappa Omicron Nu delegates. National Kappa Omicron Nu will pay the registration fee for the official chapter delegate; chapters usually fund the other expenses for the delegate. Any number of chapter members may register.
